Cooper A-Okay After 22-Orbit Flight

By RALPH DIGHTON

ABOARD USS KEARSARGE (AP)—Astronaut Gordon Cooper was merely a bit woozy when he finished a 34-hour trip into space—and thereby may have hastened the day when man lands on the moon.

Cooper, 36, expressed confidence that "We have learned a lot from this mission for future, more extended space operations."

The spaceman's perilous descent to his exactly predicted impact point 96 miles southeast of Midway Island Thursday afternoon was full of drama and heroism. But his physical condition was what most pleased space agency doctors examining him today.

Ben James, National Aeronautics and Space Administration spokesman aboard this recovery ship, said the medical men were "very happy with Cooper's condition. In layman's language, you would say his condition is normal.

"The only thing he did experience was about 15 seconds of being woozy after he stepped out of his Faith 7 capsule. This was normal and expected."

The tests and the engineering debriefing sessions will continue until Cooper is flown from the Kearsarge to Honolulu Saturday afternoon for a parade and public reception.

Their results will require long evaluation, but optimism was evident that the main stated objective of this longest American space journey had been reached.

This was: "Study the effects of approximately one day in orbital flight on the astronaut; verify that man can function in space as a primary 'system' aboard the spacecraft modified for a full-day mission."

The Soviets remained far ahead in orbits and flight lengths, with a record of 64 and 48 revolutions last August. But they have divulged little of their cosmonauts' condition.

American space agency doctors had expressed fears beforehand that Cooper might faint—or worse—when he came down. They obviously were delighted he did not.

President Kennedy, who congratulated the Oklahoma Air Force major by telephone a few minutes after he hit the deck, told the nation on radio and television that Cooper's feat "represents a great achievement for our society and a great achievement for free men and women.

"Peace has her victories as well as war, and this was one of the victories for the human spirit today."

Cooper's spirit did not falter when near the end of a "textbook" flight his capsule developed electrical difficulties.

He was in the 19th orbit when a light snapped on which was intended to do so only as he fired his reverse rockets. The automatic control system was haywire in some inexplicable manner.

Tension mounted aboard this big ship and at the launch headquarters in Cape Canaveral, Fla., where Cooper had blasted off Wednesday morning.

Cooper would have to fire his rockets manually and also personally adjust the vital descent attitude of Faith 7.

John H. Glenn Jr., Cooper's fellow astronaut and predecessor in space, undertook to talk him down. Glenn was aboard the tracking ship Coastal Sentry off southern Japan.

Manual re-entry was not a novel situation. Astronaut Malcolm Scott Carpenter experienced similar trouble—but as a result landed well off target.

Calmly, Cooper responded "Roger" or "okay" to Glenn's counsel, and on the 22nd orbit they started the count-down together. A mistake of a single second in firing any of the three reverse rockets could mean a landing error of seven miles. A few seconds awry could spell disaster after 560,000 miles of smooth sailing.

The Kearsarge, where a happy outlook had turned to tension, sent up her search and rescue planes. Imperturbably, Cooper fired his rockets as he soared over the Red China coast near Shanghai. Soon the Kearsarge radarscope located an object 84 miles high, out of sight above thin clouds.

The waiting men aboard the Kearsarge and two destroyers on station shortly heard the reverberating thunderclap of a sonic boom.

A rainbow-like halo glowed around the sun.

The Faith 7 popped into view almost dead ahead, dangling gently from its 63-foot red and white striped parachute. The crew shouted gaily.

Scorched by its fall through the atmosphere but solid and intact, it plumped into the 5-foot waves. First official estimates put it a mere 7,000 yards off the port bow, but it finally was fixed at 4.4 nautical miles, 8,800 yards. "I'm in fine shape," Cooper radioed. He had been aloft 34 hours, 20-½ minutes.

Helicopter 51 dropped frogmen who affixed flotation gear to the capsule. A whaleboat smartly towed it alongside and a crane lifted it onto the hangar deck's elevator No. 3.

Cooper crawled out backward, smiling but evidently giddy.

Dr. Pollard and Dr. Charles W. Upp helped him walk along a strip of red canvas, lined with white guide ropes and Marines in dress blues. Cooper said nothing, but waved and smiled while a band played.

A little later in the ship's sick bay for examination, he said, "I agree with the other fellows. Wow!

Reds Down U.S. Copter In Korea

SEOUL, South Korea (AP) — Communist North Korea said its ground forces fired on and forced down a U.S. Army helicopter today just north of the demilitarized zone between North and South Korea.

The Reds said the plane was damaged badly.

There was no announcement of the fate of the two American pilots, Capt. Ben Weakley Stutts and Capt. Charleston W. Voltz.

The disclosure that the helicopter was brought down by gunfire was made by the senior North Korean delegate to the Military Armistice Commission.

The U.N. Command had told the commission earlier that the helicopter made an emergency landing on the north side of the Han River estuary, in Red territory 17 miles northwest of Seoul. The U.N. Command requested that the Communists return the pilots and the aircraft immediately.

The Communist delegate called the flight an intentional breach of the armistice agreement but evaded a direct reply to the request for return of the men and the helicopter. In a similar case in 1958 an American pilot was returned in 11 days.

A U.N. spokesman said the officers were making a routine check of identification markers along the south side of the demilitarized zone the 1953 armistice established to separate the two Koreas.

The spokesman said Stutts and Voltz were experienced pilots who were familiar with the area.

U.S. Marine Maj. Gen. George H. Cloud, the senior U.N. member of the Mixed Armistice Commission, made the request for the return of the men and the helicopter at a commission meeting at Panmunjom.

Cloud told the Communists the violation of North Korean territory was unintentional.

Maj. Gen. Chang Chung-wan, the chief North Korean delegate, retorted that the flight over Red soil was "part of the U.S. imperialists' hostile activities in Korea." He said such experienced pilots could not have made a navigational error.

Cloud replied that in the past the U.N. command has admitted frankly any violation by its forces of the armistice agreement. He said the command would take appropriate measures to punish the two pilots as specified by the armistice agreement if it was proved they had erred.

U.S. Relaxes Its Vigil In Birmingham

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. (AP)—The federal government shows signs of relaxing its vigil in Birmingham's racial situation and Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy's adviser on civil rights has returned to Washington.

Sheriff Melvin Bailey said, however, the authorities are apprehensive about the weekend. A 24-hour guard has been posted throughout the area of last week's rioting. About 200 heavily armed state patrolmen and conservation department officers are patrolling a 24-square block area.

"It's an uneasy quiet," Bailey said. "The weekend will cause more concern. It will be a critical period."

Asst. Atty. Gen. Burke Marshall, who went back to Washington Thursday, said he has no plans to return to this racially troubled city immediately. He said he believes the situation will be calmed through the cooperation of Birmingham people. Marshall was accompanied by an aide, Ed Guthman.

A deputy attorney general, Joseph Dolan, remained in Birmingham.

About 3,000 riot-trained soldiers are standing by at bases in Alabama, where they were ordered by President Kennedy after bloody rioting in Birmingham last weekend.

U.S. Jobless Rose Slightly During April

New Highs Also Set In Employment, Industrial Output

WASHINGTON (AP) — The nation's jobless rate edged upward last month despite new highs in employment and industrial production.

Thus, the economy continued to present a bitterly paradoxical picture: Business growing stronger, more Americans at work than ever before and joblessness persistently and stubbornly high.

On the bright side: The Labor Department reported over-all employment at a new record level of 68.9 million. The Federal Reserve Board reported the output of mines, mills and factories at a record 122.4 per cent of the 1957-59 average.

On the gloomy side: Joblessness stands at 5.7 per cent, a small increase from the 5.6 per cent of March.

Other figures released Thursday by the department and the reserve board:

April non-farm payrolls climbed by 800,000 to lift the job total to a record 55.9 million—"a substantially better than seasonal job expansion" according to the Bureau of Labor Statistics.

Over-all unemployment dropped 400,000 to 4.1 million, a largely seasonal decline.

The seasonally adjusted unemployment rate showed an increase because of the great number of Americans joining the labor market.

Increases in factory and contract construction payrolls were noted. Factory jobs bucked the usual March to April decline, edging ahead 100,000 to 16.7 million. Contract construction jobs outdistanced the usual seasonal gain, rising 260,000 to 2.5 million for the first marked advance in this field in nine months.

The Commerce Department reported that retail trade for the week ended May 11 was an estimated $4.8 billion, up 1 per cent from the preceding week and 3 per cent from the comparable week of 1962.

For Proud Family Of Astronaut

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP)—The anxious watching and waiting have ended for astronaut Gordon Cooper's proud family but busy days are ahead for Trudy Cooper and her teen-age daughters.

Mrs. Cooper and the girls, Camala, 14, and Janita, 13, were to fly to Hawaii today for a rendezvous with America's newest space hero.

On Monday they will accompany Cooper to Washington to be received in the White House Rose Garden by President Kennedy after, perhaps, a parade down Pennsylvania Avenue.

Mrs. Cooper, Cam and Jan held a brief news conference Thursday night 20 minutes after Cooper was safely aboard the USS Kearsarge after his historic 22-orbit flight.

The conference broke up when word came Cooper was waiting to talk to his wife and daughters by radio-telephone from the Kearsarge.

Details of the conversations were not revealed but Mrs. Cooper sent this message to the newsmen: "It was a good connection."

"We are a very proud family tonight," Mrs. Cooper said after walking from the brick and stone house where she and the girls had remained throughout the flight.

She thanked newsmen for their "patience the past two days."

Some 300 persons were on hand when the family appeared before newsmen and photographers who had waited in the street in front of the house more than 34 hours.

"I felt very calm and confident," Mrs. Cooper said when asked how she reacted to news a malfunction aboard the Faith 7 had forced her husband to use hand controls while preparing for the capsule's splash in the Pacific.

West Europe Astounded

Flight By Cooper Lauded By Mr. K

LONDON (AP)—The cool courage, iron nerve and skill of astronaut Gordon Cooper aroused the wonder and astonishment of Western Europe today.

World leaders—including Soviet Premier Khrushchev—cabled congratulations to President Kennedy. Khrushchev saluted the "Courageous American astronaut" and said his flight had "made a new contribution to the exploration of the expanses of the universe."

Through the evening and into the early morning Europeans followed the last tension-packed hours of his voyage.

In cities and towns across Western Europe they followed the thrilling story on radio and television links with Cape Canaveral and the carrier Kearsarge.

Today the story was spread across the front pages.

"Glorious splashdown!" the Daily Herald cried.

"All By Himself!" ran a Daily Mail banner.

The admiration was accompanied by relief that he had made it down safely after the worry when technical failure in the capsule forced him to drive the thing down himself.

Millions of Europeans shared the tension-crowded moments. On television hookups via the Telstar 2 and relay satellites they heard Mercury Control's report as Cooper fired his reverse rockets and moved the capsule into its re-entry position.

Across continental Europe local commentators translated the Mercury Control reports as Cooper made his descent.

Then came the word his parachute had opened, he was sighted. He was coming down. Then the word they had been waiting for—he was down, safe and triumphant.

West German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer, Japanese Prime Minister Hayato Ikeda and Mexican President Adolfo Lopez Mateos were among the first to send congratulations to Kennedy.

The foreign minister of the newest member of the United Nations, Sheikh Sabah Al-Salem Al-Sabah of Kuwait, interrupted a reception in New York in his honor to congratulate Adlai E. Stevenson, the U.S. ambassador to the United Nations.

Soviets heard brief reports of the flight in early morning radio newscasts. But news of the successful completion came too late for Moscow morning newspapers to print it.

Mrs. Flasco Starts Work In Relief Job

Mrs. Jean Flasco, 1837 Idaho Ave., Pleasant Heights, is the city's new relief director, succeeding Mrs. Margaret Hickey, a 25-year veteran who will retire May 31.

Appointed by Safety - Service Director Robert Owen from a field of eight applicants, Mrs. Flasco began work Thursday at the relief department office on the second floor of Central Fire Station.

She is the wife of James V. Flasco, former chairman of the city Democratic Central Committee and his party's nominee for one of three Council-at-large seats in the November general election.

"Mrs. Hickey has been here so long and done such such a wonderful job that I will be satisfied if I can do half as well as she," Mrs. Flasco commented.

The post pays $335 monthly. Owen received applications for the vacancy until Monday morning after Mrs. Hickey announced a week ago she planned to retire at the end of the month. In ad-

Flight By Cooper Lauded By Mr. K

LONDON (AP)—The cool courage, iron nerve and skill of astronaut Gordon Cooper aroused the wonder and astonishment of Western Europe today.

World leaders—including Soviet Premier Khrushchev—cabled congratulations to President Kennedy. Khrushchev saluted the "Courageous American astronaut" and said his flight had "made a new contribution to the exploration of the expanses of the universe."

Through the evening and into the early morning Europeans followed the last tension-packed hours of his voyage.

In cities and towns across Western Europe they followed the thrilling story on radio and television links with Cape Canaveral and the carrier Kearsarge.

Today the story was spread across the front pages.

"Glorious splashdown!" the Daily Herald cried.

"All By Himself!" ran a Daily Mail banner.

The admiration was accompanied by relief that he had made it down safely after the worry when technical failure in the capsule forced him to drive the thing down himself.

Millions of Europeans shared the tension-crowded moments. On television hookups via the Telstar 2 and relay satellites they heard Mercury Control's report as Cooper fired his reverse rockets and moved the capsule into its re-entry position.

Across continental Europe local commentators translated the Mercury Control reports as Cooper made his descent.

Then came the word his parachute had opened, he was sighted. He was coming down. Then the word they had been waiting for—he was down, safe and triumphant.

West German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer, Japanese Prime Minister Hayato Ikeda and Mexican President Adolfo Lopez Mateos were among the first to send congratulations to Kennedy.

The foreign minister of the newest member of the United Nations, Sheikh Sabah Al-Salem Al-Sabah of Kuwait, interrupted a reception in New York in his honor to congratulate Adlai E. Stevenson, the U.S. ambassador to the United Nations.

Soviets heard brief reports of the flight in early morning radio newscasts. But news of the successful completion came too late for Moscow morning newspapers to print it.

Mrs. Flasco Starts Work In Relief Job

Mrs. Jean Flasco, 1837 Idaho Ave., Pleasant Heights, is the city's new relief director, succeeding Mrs. Margaret Hickey, a 25-year veteran who will retire May 31.

Appointed by Safety - Service Director Robert Owen from a field of eight applicants, Mrs. Flasco began work Thursday at the relief department office on the second floor of Central Fire Station.

She is the wife of James V. Flasco, former chairman of the city Democratic Central Committee and his party's nominee for one of three Council-at-large seats in the November general election.

"Mrs. Hickey has been here so long and done such such a wonderful job that I will be satisfied if I can do half as well as she," Mrs. Flasco commented.

The post pays $335 monthly. Owen received applications for the vacancy until Monday morning after Mrs. Hickey announced a week ago she planned to retire at the end of the month. In ad-

Cooper then underwent a two-hour preliminary medical examination before being permitted to retire to the admiral's inboard cabin.

The five-week program in Sweden for American secondary school officials is being sponsored through the co-operative efforts of the AASA, the program aspect of Sweden's USA-KAMPANJEN, known as "Meet Modern Sweden," and the Experiment in International Living.

The program will have three important features, sponsors said. Each participant will live for three weeks with a Swedish family and have a chance to expand his local contacts from this "home base." He will receive an intensive and personalized introduction into the Swedish school system, sufficient for making constructive comparisons with his own. Traveling from Lapland in the north to Stockholm in the south, the visiting educators will see much of Sweden, sponsors said.

The educators will assemble in New York City Sept. 16 for orientation and depart for Sweden Sept. 17 on a chartered airliner. Arrival in Kiruna in northernmost Sweden is slated Sept. 18.

Following will be two days of sightseeing and shopping in Lapland and visits among the residents. Time will be set aside for discussions with the Town Council of Kiruna and industrial leaders, teachers and newspapermen.

The group will also visit Sweden's largest state-owned steel plant and learn of economic planning, meeting key persons in Swedish industriaal enterprise.

On Sept. 20, the educators will be divided into groups, and each member of the groups will live with a different Swedish family. There will be other visits to hospitals and industrial plants. The trip home will start on Sept. 24.

In a letter from Finis E. Engleman, executive secretary of AASA, Hall was advised that "You have been nominated as one of the 90. Your colleagues have expressed confidence that you will be a worthy representative of American education and a good reporter to our profession after your experience in Sweden."

Supt. Hall was graduated from the College of William & Mary in 1926, and came to Hancock County, in 1929. He became assistant superintendent in 1935, and was later elevated to superintendent.

Faith 7 did well. I had a few little problems but nothing major."

In quick succession then he received telephone calls from President Kennedy, Secretary of the Air Force Eugene Zuckert, and his wife, Trudy, back home in Houston, Tex.

"I want to congratulate you very much," the President said. "The country is very proud of you."

"Thank you very much, sir," Cooper replied.

"I enjoyed it very much."

Many congratulatory radiograms poured in from public officials. The Senate passed an official resolution of congratulations. Kennedy invited the new space hero and his family to the White House Monday.

Cooper then underwent a two-hour preliminary medical examination before being permitted to retire to the admiral's inboard cabin.

Cooper's long flight is expected to be the last of the Mercury series. Brainerd Holmes, director of Manned Space Flight, said there was less than a 50 per cent chance that there would be another.

ministrators. Supt. Hall is an ex-president of the group.

The five-week program in Sweden for American secondary school officials is being sponsored through the co-operative efforts of the AASA, the program aspect of Sweden's USA-KAMPANJEN, known as "Meet Modern Sweden," and the Experiment in International Living.

The program will have three important features, sponsors said. Each participant will live for three weeks with a Swedish family and have a chance to expand his local contacts from this "home base." He will receive an intensive and personalized introduction into the Swedish school system, sufficient for making constructive comparisons with his own. Traveling from Lapland in the north to Stockholm in the south, the visiting educators will see much of Sweden, sponsors said.

The educators will assemble in New York City Sept. 16 for orientation and depart for Sweden Sept. 17 on a chartered airliner. Arrival in Kiruna in northernmost Sweden is slated Sept. 18.

Following will be two days of sightseeing and shopping in Lapland and visits among the residents. Time will be set aside for discussions with the Town Council of Kiruna and industrial leaders, teachers and newspapermen.

The group will also visit Sweden's largest state-owned steel plant and learn of economic planning, meeting key persons in Swedish industriaal enterprise.

On Sept. 20, the educators will be divided into groups, and each member of the groups will live with a different Swedish family. There will be other visits to hospitals and industrial plants. The trip home will start on Sept. 24.

In a letter from Finis E. Engleman, executive secretary of AASA, Hall was advised that "You have been nominated as one of the 90. Your colleagues have expressed confidence that you will be a worthy representative of American education and a good reporter to our profession after your experience in Sweden."

Supt. Hall was graduated from the College of William & Mary in 1926, and came to Hancock County, in 1929. He became assistant superintendent in 1935, and was later elevated to superintendent.

Those Who Go First

Gordon Cooper was aloft only a few minutes more than Charles A. Lindbergh on his solo flight across the Atlantic May 20-21, 1927.

Lindbergh covered 3,610 in 33 hours and 29 minutes. Cooper traveled the distance to the moon and back, with tens of thousands of miles to spare.

Cooper's space capsule floated through space at 17,500 miles an hour. Lindbergh's primitive contraption of the early air age chugged through the Atlantic mists at a speed a little more than 100 miles an hour.

EVERYTHING about these two feats occurring 36 years apart on almost the same dates in May is different, except the kind of men who performed them.

Americans honor Maj. Cooper, as they have honored his predecessor astronauts — Shepard, Grissom, Glenn, Carpenter and Schirra. All are honored, as are their Russian counterparts, for their pioneering courage at the beginning of the space age adventure.

But the adventure did not start with them. It started with the first man who climbed to the top of the mountain to see what was on the other side. It has been carried through history by all explorers, frontiersmen, breakers of new trails — all the dauntless human beings who want to be where no man ever was before.

These are the people who are first on all the new frontiers.

NOTHING can be gained from comparing them with one another. The comparison between all of them and all the rest of us is revealing, however.

Could we have clung to the stick of the Spirit of St. Louis as it labored across the North Atlantic hour after hour?

Could we have climbed Mt. Everest, gone looking for a more direct route to the East Indies, steered a frail ship into the Straits of Magellan, let ourselves be strapped into a Mercury capsule for an orbital flight?

All credit and all glory to those who go first!

Most Relief Clients Are Willing

Is it possible the General Assembly may have been flabbergasted to learn that only 14 of Ohio's 88 counties didn't already make a practice of requiring able - bodied relief recipients to work for payments, if assigned a job to do?

The effect of the new state law making it mandatory for this to be done everywhere hardly will be noticeable. There will be a natural inclination for relief administrators to make as good a showing as they can. But in relief districts already requiring able-bodied clients to work if offered jobs there will be no sudden or visible increase in activity. They already are doing as much as they are asked to do.

IT SIMPLY is not true, as often alleged by embittered persons with no esteem for their fellowmen, that relief recipients are less willing to work than other people. Many are less able to work; that is true. It also is true that many people are on relief because of disabilities that make it impractical for them to be hired by profit-making enterprise.

But among those who know relief recipients best because they are in frequent and close contact with them there is none of the disrespect voiced by critics whose harsh judgments betray both ignorance of the facts and hardness of heart.

The industrial society we have developed in the United States is a ruthless juggernaut capable of destroying all manpower it cannot digest profitably. It is restrained only by the intervention of relief. And it should be borne in mind that this intervention did not become public policy until the '30s, when it finally became plain that the Great Depression had outdistanced food baskets and personal charity.

MOST PEOPLE on relief welcome a chance to salvage self-respect out of the misfortune that has overtaken them. Inevitably, there are chiselers, loafers and ne'er-do-wells on relief, just as there are everywhere else. They must be made to toe the line when they depend on public funds for subsistence.

There is useful work that able-bodied relief clients can do. They are glad to do it, and in most parts of Ohio they have been doing it. The new law passed by the General Assembly requires them to do it. A general practice will then become a statewide policy.

Above All Else, Be Efficient

The presidential emergency board appointed to mediate the dispute over railroad work rules has introduced an important thought into the dispute.

Instead of going along with railroad management and the preceding presidential commission on the troublesome issue of eliminating firemen from many types of runs, it suggests that the railroad industry's need for efficiency isn't the only thing to be considered.

The board proposes a nationwide rule for determining where firemen should be used, then proposes an arbitrator to enforce the rule. This would have the long-range effect of easing the transition from the era of too many firemen to an era of enough firemen.

EVEN MORE important, it may have the short-range effect of bringing about a balance between the human needs of thousands of workers being turned out of jobs and the railroad industry's necessity for efficient operation to meet the challenge of competing industries.

Surely more than one aspect of efficiency is involved in the dispute over firemen—railroad efficiency plus social efficiency.

As in all types of industrial efficiency that transform unneeded wage earners into beneficiaries of some kind, the railroad industry's uneeded firemen must be provided for. They cannot just be turned out to walk the streets.

THAT IS a problem in efficiency, too. The cost of caring for hundreds of thousands of displaced employes who are being added to unemployment totals and relief rolls must come out of public funds, unless it comes out of private funds.

No railroad worker can honestly be expected to stand for being negotiated out of his job.

But that grim eventuality might be made easier to bear, suggests the presidential emergency board, by conceding there are more things to think about than industrial efficiency.

Forget The Image

By Truman Twill

A remarkable thing about the proper image is that most of us agree on what it should be despite the fact we are not within reaching distance of it ourselves.

This is true particularly of personal images.

Most men are of one mind about what a beautiful woman is, despite the fact they married women who did not meet their specifications.

Most woman agree on the specifications for handsome men, though you'd never know it by looking at the men they married.

Aside from the fact both men and women must settle for what they can get, it's doubtful if the image carried in the mind's eye ever is the same as the image they carry in their hearts.

The one in the heart is constructed around personality. The one in the mind's eye is constructed around appearance. People who pick out mates on the basis of appearance learn in a hurry they can't live with a photograph.

Image worship isn't limited to he-ing and she-ing. Vance Packard, who is making a writing career of objectifying the great American rat race, says in his new book, "The Pyramid Climbers," that corporations now go in strong for executives who are tall, lean, clean-shaven and blessed with poise, bearing and tact.

That's the image; that is what brass hats think brass hats should look like.

But that is not what the people who found and build corporations did look like. They looked like the ordinary run. They did not fit the image.

They were short. They were skinny. They were wopper-jawed and bulbous. They had no more tact than stray elephants. They lacked poise and bearing.

Likewise, the women who married top-notch brass hats rarely, if ever, looked like images. They were dumpy, angular, or buck-toothed. Not all of them, of course, just most of them.

No one can tell what's in the package by looking at the wrapping. If all packages were wrapped the same and all were the same size, would that mean they were equally intriguing, equally cherished? Of course not.

It's substance that matters, not appearance.

This is why so many show business marriages fall apart. There's nothing to them but appearance.

It's as good a guess that corporations are storing up disenchantment if they pick people by appearance, instead of character and ability.

They might bear in mind that the fellow who started the enterprise would have been sorted out as the one least likely to succeed, judged by his appearance, and the old gal he married was only slightly better than a horror.

If it weren't this way, all people most likely to succeed would be found clustered in model agencies. Right?

Next time you look in the mirror, cheer up. It may not be hopeless after all.

The seven wonders of American engineering, according to one popular poll, are the Panama Canal, the Empire State Building, Hoover Dam, the San Francisco-Oakland Bay Bridge, the Colorado River Aqueduct, Chicago's Sewage-Disposal System and the Grand Coulee Dam.

Of the nearly 600 princely realms existing when British rule ended in India in 1947, none today retains its identity as a seperate state.

The first U.S. president to ride in an automobile was Theodore Roosevelt, who rode in a purple-lined Columbia Electric Victoria, in 1902.

Use Of U.S. Troops Called Dictatorial

By DAVID LAWRENCE

Have the American people just been given an example of how each of the 50 states of the Union can be deprived of their sovereignty despite the explicit guarantees written into the Constitution?

David Lawrence

Has a precedent been established whereby the chief executive of the federal government may at any time in his discretion hereafter use military force or threaten to do so in order to coerce any state, county or city government to obey his decrees?

The asking of such questions is occasioned by the mobilization of federal military forces around Birmingham, Ala., following a series of tragic events in that city in the last few days.

When restrictions in the Constitution can be ignored by a president of the United States in order to carry out his personal concepts of what the behavior of state or city officials should be, the facts on which the people can base a judgment should be made available.

On May 8, President Kennedy was asked at his news conference about the use of the powers of the presidency in the Alabama situation. The stenographic transcript shows his reply as follows:

"There isn't any federal statute that was involved in the last few days in Birmingham, Ala. I indicated the areas where the federal government had intervened in Birmingham — the matter of voting, the matter of dealing with education, other matters. On the specific question of the parades, that did not involve a federal statute."

THE QUESTIONER started to ask about Negro students, and the president interrupted with the following comment:

"As I indicated in my answer that is the reason why Mr. Marshall (of the U.S. Department of Justice) is proceeding the way he has, and we have not had, for example, a legal suit as we have had in some other cases where there was a federal statute involved."

On Saturday night and Sunday morning, disorders broke out in Birmingham, and President Kennedy issued orders Sunday afternoon for about 3,000 federal troops —especially units trained in riot control—to go to the vicinity of Birmingham.

The governor of Alabama and the two United States senators from that state said in messages to the President that there was no need for federal troops, as the local authorities were capable of handling the situation.

The President in his reply to the governor said:

"In response to the question raised in your telegram of last night, federal troops would be sent into Birmingham, if necessary, under the authority of Title 10, Section 333, Paragraph 1 of the United States code relating to the suppression of domestic violence.

"Under this section, which has been invoked by my immediate predecessor and other presidents as well as myself on previous occasions the Congress entrusts to the president all determinations as to (1) the necessity for action; (2) the means to be employed; and (3) the adequacy or inadequacy of the protection afforded by state authorities to the citizens of that state."

This is a historic statement. If accepted as valid, it permits a military dictatorship in the United States at any time any president chooses to invoke this same concept of executive power for it claims there has been an unlimited delegation to the president of the power to use military force instead of court procedure and to threaten to use troops or send them to a trouble area — even before a federal law actually is violated.

THE STATUTE quoted by the President, however, gives no such power. It reads as follows:

"Section 333. Interference with state and federal law.

"The president, by using the militia or the armed forces, or both, or by any other means, shall take such measures as he considers necessary to suppress, in a state, any insurrection, domestic violence, unlawful combination, or conspiracy, if it—

"1. So hinders the execution of the laws of that state and of the United States within the state, that any part or class of its people is deprived of a right, privilege, immunity, or protection named in the Constitution and secured by law, and the constituted authorities of that state are unable, fail, or refuse to protect that right, privilege, or immunity, or to give that protection; or

"2. Opposes or obstructs the execution of the laws of the United States or impedes the course of justice under those laws."

Since the President in this case did not invoke paragraph No. 2 and conceded instead that no court orders were involved—as they were in Little Rock, Ark., and Oxford, Miss. — the question is what federal statutes were broken. There were none. The states alone have the power to deal with local disorders.

THE CONSTITUTION says in Sec. 4 of Art. IV:

"The United States shall guarantee to every state in this union a Republican form of government and shall protect each of them against invasion; and on application of the legislature, or of the executive — when the legislature cannot be convened— against domestic violence."

The words "the United States shall guarantee" mean that the federal government guarantees and the president is charged with the duty of carrying out the provisions of the Constitution.

The governor of Alabama did not apply for aid and formally notified the president that the "unwarranted presence" of the federal troops is "an open invitation to a resumption of street rioting by lawless Negro mobs, on the assumption they will be protected by federal military forces."

He has announced that he will ask a federal court to order the troops removed.

Clearly a precedent of far-reaching significance is being established in a nation which has long boasted of the benefits of a written Constitution and the separation of powers.

Rockefeller Plans Grueling Campaign

By VICTOR RIESEL

Keenly aware that his private life has become dinner - table conversation — not always friendly—across the land, Nelson Rockefeller nonetheless will stay in public life by making a tough fight for the presidency of the United States.

Victor Riesel

There "absolutely is no doubt" that he will make a grueling, hedgehopping campaign for the Republican nomination in and out of the primaries. That's the word from the inner circle of men who will work alongside him during the coming year.

Most of them now are vacationing, for they have been told there may not be another holiday until a year from November. They expect the governor to call them in at the end of May. Then they will start their high-command decision sessions.

Gov. Rockefeller does not intend to say much publicly for at least a month after he wings back from Venezuela.

At most, he may make some news by talking to Richard Nixon when the former G. O. P. candidate arrives in New York for his June 12 departure for Europe. Interestingly enough, both Nixon and President Kennedy will be in Europe at the same time.

IT WILL BE almost six weeks more before Mr. Rockefeller makes any public political moves. Much more than the weather will be stirring in Miami Beach during the week of July 21, when he gets to the Governors' Conference there.

It's then that the Rockefeller machine will begin operating in high gear. The New Yorker will have the chance for the first time in a long time to talk personally with other Republican governors who also have considerable support for the G.O.P. presidential nomination.

After that "Rocky" will hit the hustings.

He'll hit hard and often. He is aware that he is just a name throughout much of the United States.

Unlike Dick Nixon, he knows comparatively few of the men who will head the nominating convention delegations in '64. He knows even fewer of those who will be delegates.

He has made some forays into the farm belt and the South but has not been anywhere near hundreds of communities which make up power blocks in any convention.

HE PLANS to get into the precincts right across the United States. He won the 1958 New York gubernatorial election by hitting the streets, shaking hands, mixing with the voters.

They are not his problem yet—for first he must round up the delegates. But by getting out and mixing he wants to prove to the men who run the big city political machinery that he still can attract friendly crowds.

He is a linguist. Anywhere from the deep Southwest to the center of the big Puerto Rican concentration in New York, he can address mass meetings in Spanish.

His record among the minorities and in labor circles is good. He'll make the point that he is the only national Republican leader who can cut into these blocs of votes, which most observers expect John Kennedy to carry.

Thus he hopes to swing the leaders of the big industrial state delegations behind him at the '64 convention. Those close to him do not believe that the other contenders really want to run next year. They say that the upsurging Michigan governor George Romney, has his political eye on 1968, for he first wants to consolidate his position in his home state.

ROCKEFELLER'S inner circle is convinced of Barry Goldwater's political strength. They know they'll need his support to win. But they are equally convinced that the Arizonan does not want to chance losing his Senate seat.

For that and many other reasons they do not see him as a vice presidential candidate either.

Therefore they talk of three men as the governor's potential running mates. There is Sen. Thruston Morton of Kentucky. He could neutralize the strength of Vice President Lyndon Johnson. There is Sen. Thomas Kuchel, who ran so strongly in California, despite the Nixon debacle. And California is all-important in both the nominating convention and the national campaign. There is Oregon's Gov. Mark Hatfield, young and popular, to give the ticket a coast-to-coast breadth.

National politics takes no holiday. There just is not enough time between presidential elections to stop thinking strategically. And this is how Mr. Rockefeller and his inner circle have been thinking.

GOP Needs New Issue

By Raymond Moley

Every adult with even a smattering of political understanding must realize now, even if he failed to know it at the time, that when President Kennedy shook a naked fist at Khrushchev and Castro on Oct. 22 last he had an eye upon the political campaign then reaching its final days.

It was well known for months that the Soviet was building in Cuba a powerful base of operations. Republican candidates for Congress all over the country were making the most of the issue and were getting their point over to the voters.

But with one speech and certain deployments of military force, together with a series of letters to and from Khrushchev, the tide was turned.

The Republicans for the rest of the campaign lost their major issue and thus lost their chance to make big gains in the election.

This should be a lesson to opponents of the Kennedy administration as they look forward 1964.

If they put all their eggs in the Cuban hamper, they may find that time, chance, and some action by the President will leave them once more without either the eggs or the hamper.

This is not to say that our inaction about the Cuban situation is sound or right. Or that there should be no criticism of the Kennedy administration for having abandoned traditional American policy toward Cuba and Latin America, or for having abandoned even its own declarations to rid Cuba of the Castro dictatorship.

THE POINT is that there are too many chances that this issue may be resolved before November, 1964 and that Republican opposition must rest its case on much broader grounds if it expects to win.

We need only to look back upon presidential elections in the past to see how many have been decided by luck, chance or by circumstances which were not anticipated when campaigning began.

Edward J. Flynn, Franklin D. Roosevelt's smartest and most resourceful political adviser, once told me that when Wilkie by a miracle of propaganda and manipulation won the Republican nomination in the summer of 1940, he seemed assured of election. The Roosevelt domestic policies had failed, and the country was ready for a change.

But in that same summer the battle of Britain began and Roosevelt deftly turned all attention to the necessity that the United States should help its beleaguered mother country.

The failures of the New Deal were forgotten.

WAY BACK in 1896, Bryan had the election won in the summer, but for economic reasons which have never been explained, the price of wheat began to rise in September and farmers forgot all about free silver and elected McKinley.

In 1948, Dewey failed to hail the achievements of the 80th Congress and left that worthy body naked before the attacks of a desperate Truman.

In 1960 Nixon in July and August was the heir of a popular president and a man named John F. Kennedy was little known except in Massachusetts and the states where he had campaigned for the nomination. But the first television debate gave Kennedy the exposure to the country he needed, and Nixon in that encounter, for reasons which we need not enumerate, failed to show his full capabilities. That is why John F. Kennedy and not Richard Nixon is in the White House.

It's a long, long time from now until the 1964 election, and those who are so ardent in anticipating and predicting what may happen should remember that a September song often ends in a November requiem. I repeat: Republicans should not stake their chances in 1964 on the Cuban issue.

Grass Fire Damages Unoccupied Building

A grass fire was blamed for a blaze late Thursday afternoon which damaged the roof of an unoccupied pottery building, firemen reported.

Firemen said a spark from the grass fire apparently landed on the roof of the old Mountford Pottery building at Market St. and Pink Alley and set it afire. Pink Alley is between 1st and 2nd Sts. The alarm was received at 5:17 p.m.

The grass fire apparently had been started by some "winos," firemen said. It had been extinguished by a mixer truck from the Parsons Coal Co.

Hints from Heloise

— By Heloise Cruse —

Dear Gals: Know those old plastic bleach jugs? Many a hint has come into this column on how to use them. They have often been used for garbage containers after top has been cut off.

Sometimes when we peel lettuce, tomatoes, potatoes, etc., this excess collects water while accumulating in our sinks.

I have found that I can cut off the top of one of these jugs and use it for a garbage collector in my sink. I heat my ice-pick over the gas burner and after the point is hot push it through the bottom of that wonderful bleach jug and it will allow the water and drainage to go right on down that old sink.

AFTER ALL we don't throw our garbage away every minute do we? It takes us (I figure) about two hours to fix our supper, eat it, and wash the dishes.

So . keep one of these beautiful plastic jugs (cut-off about six inches high) in your kitchen sink. After all of the watery substance has drained off your vegetables etc. then put it in your garbage, turn on the water faucet and rinse that plastic container.

Leave it in your sink. You are going to use it tomorrow, tomorrow and tomorrow once you get used to it.

I have also found — by accident — that these big plastic jars are excellent to keep lettuce in, if you punch a few holes in the bottom of the jug.

Know why?

THEY FIT a head of lettuce! Exactly. Also . with a few holes punched in the bottom . any excess moisture will leak out and prevent that goop from forming! (I am sure that all you gals know what that goop is). I hate to ruin a head of lettuce like that!

The plastic container is very sanitary, can be cut any size and this little bit of plastic will keep lettuce from bruising! And did you know that lettuce does bruise? It does.

But best of all it's free. When you can utilize something, don't ever throw it away.

HELOISE.

DEAR HELOISE: When chickens are on sale I buy them by the dozen.

After cutting them up, I place the pieces on cookie sheets in my deep freeze. After they are completely frozen I then store them in plastic bags, etc.

I find that when I remove the chicken later and pack in bags that the pieces do not stick together. Thus saving time in thawing and trying to get the individual pieces apart.

MRS. GEORGE S.

DEAR HELOISE: Speaking about spray bottles:

I fill my spray bottle which has a finger-type plunger with your old friend vinegar! Then add some very hot water in the bottle.

I use this fluid to wash my windows! All one has to do is to squirt it on and wipe it off. The heat of the water when mixed with the vinegar works like magic Windows clean faster!

ELLEN.

By golly! I just cleaned two windows with this method. The heat does loosen the residue faster.

Thanks Ellen.

HELOISE.

DEAR HELOISE: Here's a time saver when making gelatin desserts. Use frozen fruit cocktail instead of the ice cubes:

Dissolve the powder in hot water as usual, then add the frozen fruit cocktail, broken in pieces with a fork and just stir it in.

While you are stirring the gelatine, the fruit cocktail slowly melts and before you can say "boo" . the gelatin is practically congealed!

You do not have to remove the fruit as you ordinarily might when using ice cubes and it gets cold much faster. No trouble at all.

Business Area Signs Termed City Project

The State Highway Department will not erect signs marking turn-offs from E. 3rd St. to the business district because such a project is the city's responsibility, the East Liverpool Merchants Association has been advised in a letter from Earl W. Nelson, head of the Highway Department's Division 11 office in New Philadelphia.

Nelson wrote ELMA in response to a letter sent him following the businessmen's meeting May 7, in which it was voted to ask the Division 11 office to erect signs on E. 3rd St. at Broadway and Market Sts. to indicate the business district to travelers.

Most inter-city traffic has been routed around the business district since the opening of the new Freeway last fall. Small signs now mark the turnoffs, but ELMA sought larger markers of the state. Nelson told ELMA there are three standard sizes for such markers: 8-x-56 inches, 11-x-72 inches and 18-x-96 inches.

Winter Damage Severe

County's Peach Harvest Described As Total Loss

LISBON — Fruit harvest prospects in Columbiana County and Ohio have been lessened by the severe winter and low temperatures of the spring season, according to Don Myers, county extension agent in agriculture.

Most severe injury occurred to the peach crop by the low winter temperatures. The Columbiana County and Ohio commercial peach crop appears to be a total loss.

Peach trees were severely frozen back and many have been killed. Orchard producers are pessimistic about the future of the trees which do live as, following such winter injury, diseases and other causes develop which make maintaining these trees a problem.

Many producers in the county either have or are planning to push out their established injured trees and re-set young peach trees. Several years would be required for these trees to come into production, Myers said.

The same situation exists for peaches in the other Midwest States. Fair peach prospects are reported for Arkansas, Virginia and the East, also parts of Pennsylvania, New York and Michigan. Georgia and South Carolina may have near normal crops.

Little winter injury to strawberries has been observed; however, the recent frosts at bud and bloom stage reduced the expected crop prospects. Some producers said recent freezes reduced their crops by 25 to 40 per cent and severely reduced the early picking and early varieties.

Apple flower buds apparently came through the winter better than those of many other tree fruits. However, again the recent freezes at the bloom and fruit set stage reduced the yield of several varieties.

Several county producers estimate 30 per cent reduction in yield in several varities, including the popular Red Delicious. The amount of injury will vary with the location of trees and orchards and management practices.

In most cases, the cherry crop will be reduced. Sweet cherry varieties show considerable winter injury and bud killing.

Many plum flower buds were killed during the winter. Indications are the crop will be reduced considerably.

Flower buds of pears seemed to have survived the winter fairly well. The crop may be slightly less than normal.

Black raspberry varities came through the winter quite well. Some killing of laterals is evident, but little complete killing of canes has been observed. Red varieties show less injury in most plantings. Raspberry crop prospects, therefore, look fair to good at this time, Myers commented.

New Evidence Crops Up

Young-Coleman Feud Appears To Have Ended

WASHINGTON (AP)—New evidence has cropped up, like a harbinger of spring, that all is now well between the once bitterly feuding Sen. Stephen M. Young, D - Ohio, and Ohio Democratic Chairman William L. Coleman.

Young, who had demanded Coleman's political head after 1962's disastrous Democratic defeat in Ohio, talked with Coleman in a friendly meeting in the senator's office the other day.

Coleman, who for months had resisted Young's demands that he quit his party post, slipped into the senator's office for the unannounced meeting.

Young, once bitterly voluble on the subject of Coleman's handling of state party affairs, appeared surprised that anyone had seen Coleman arrive for the meeting.

What did they talk about?

"It was just a nice, pleasant talk—no news in it," Young said.

Coleman, he said, just happened to be in Washington "for some purpose or other" and dropped into his office.

The meeting added to speculation that Young, having failed to force Coleman out, has adopted a philosophy of "if you can't lick 'em, join 'em."

Actually, Young had apparently already made his point in his months-long attack on Coleman and former Gov. Michael V. DiSalle, who was dumped along with other major state Democratic office holders in 1962.

Young feared DiSalle and Coleman—whom he called DiSalle's handpicked chairman—wanted to control Ohio's delegation to the 1964 Democratic national convention.

DiSalle now appears pretty much out of the picture, at least temporarily. He is running a real estate development firm in a Virginia suburb of Washington.

The new aura of well being between Young and Coleman also lends further weight to speculation that the 74-year-old Young plans to run for a second term and wants party differences patched up for what admittedly would be an uphill battle.

Democrats will need all the strength they can muster for 1964 in a state that rejected President Kennedy in 1960 and gave Republicans another resounding mandate two years later.

With DiSalle, a defeated candidate, out of the picture, Young apparently feels Kennedy and his fellow Democratic candidates will have a chance in 1964.

Young has also apparently made his point with Coleman about who is calling the shots now. Young is already busy lining up possible state delegates to the national convention.

Industry Plan To Get Study

A delegation of six city officials will visit Zanesville Saturday for an all-day study of a new industrial development corporation organized in the Muskingum County city.

The group includes Safety-Service Director Robert Owen, Engineer George S. Bloomgren and Councilmen Floyd Murray, Kenneth Berg, George E. Willshaw and S. James Welch.

The delegation will leave City Hall at 7 a.m. to keep a scheduled appointment at 10 with Allen Land, head of the Zanesville development agency. Welch said the group plans to present a detailed report to Council Monday night.

Local interest in Zanesville's program has grown recently since the Chamber of Commerce began to study the establishment of a development corporation to help encourage industry to locate in East Liverpool.

Zanesville's program is called the ZIP Plan. The indiials stand for "Zanesville Improvement Program." It was originated by the Chamber of Commerce and patterned to a large extent on a program launched earlier by Scranton, Pa.

Zanesville hired a consultant to lay out an industrial development program and then staged a fund-raising drive that is expected to produce $400,000 to finance the project. It expects to hire an industrial development director to contact industries, asking them to locate in plants which the corporation will erect.

Kiwanians Hear Debate On U.S. Aid To Schools

The controversial question of federal aid to local school districts was debated by two Hiram College students Thursday before the Kiwanis Club with as little agreement as found previously in the U. S. Congress.

Ken Burton of Arlington, Va., freshman at Hiram, took up the cudgell for federal aid, while Jack Holtz of near Wheeling, a senior, opposed such assistance at the meeting at the Travelers Hotel.

Burton cited the inadequacy of quantity and quality of teachers and classrooms throughout the nation, pointed out the limitation of local property taxes to finance needed improvement and proposed a voluntary means of seeking federal funds.

Holtz declared figures regarding the need for more teachers and classrooms were contradictory, claimed teachers are as well paid as most college graduates, said other tax sources are available for school funds and warned that federal aid would mean federal control.

Burton commented that Holtz had not referred to the need to improve the quality of teachers, to provide salaries which would attract the best people to the profession and retain the good ones now teaching.

Burton said he proposed only that the federal government agree upon a minimum salary for teachers and minimum standards for classrooms.

If any local school board wished to bring their standards up to the agreed level and lacked the money to do so, Burton said, the board could apply for federal funds. He emphasized the school board would not be required to meet the standards or to seek the funds; there would be no compulsion involved.

Holtz pointed out there are other tax sources, such as sales taxes, which can be utilized to aid local school funds, and that according to one study, only 1½ per cent of schools in the nation are presently unable to obtain the basic funds needed. "This is an insufficient number to change the whole educational financing picture," he declared.

Holtz also said there is no guarantee that once federal funds are made available, that regulation and supervision would not follow.

Alex Kidd was program chairman. Merrill Hall, president, was in charge.

Burgess has worked at the decorating trade 52 years — the last 15 at the Sterling plant. He is a member of IBOP Local 24.

Industry Plan To Get Study

A delegation of six city officials will visit Zanesville Saturday for an all-day study of a new industrial development corporation organized in the Muskingum County city.

The group includes Safety-Service Director Robert Owen, Engineer George S. Bloomgren and Councilmen Floyd Murray, Kenneth Berg, George E. Willshaw and S. James Welch.

The delegation will leave City Hall at 7 a.m. to keep a scheduled appointment at 10 with Allen Land, head of the Zanesville development agency. Welch said the group plans to present a detailed report to Council Monday night.

Local interest in Zanesville's program has grown recently since the Chamber of Commerce began to study the establishment of a development corporation to help encourage industry to locate in East Liverpool.

Zanesville's program is called the ZIP Plan. The indiials stand for "Zanesville Improvement Program." It was originated by the Chamber of Commerce and patterned to a large extent on a program launched earlier by Scranton, Pa.

Zanesville hired a consultant to lay out an industrial development program and then staged a fund-raising drive that is expected to produce $400,000 to finance the project. It expects to hire an industrial development director to contact industries, asking them to locate in plants which the corporation will erect.

Ann Landers

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann Landers: I have wanted to write to you on other occasions when I've disagreed with your advice, but somehow I never got around to it.

A recent column, however, was so stupid I can't put off writing any longer. I mean your insipid reply to the woman whose nutty husband locked up his personal belongings every night.

You told the wife to phone her doctor and he would "take it from there." It is obvious, Ann Landers, that you are not married to a doctor. Well, I am, and if he got a call like that my husband would think the woman was nutty and perhaps her husband knew what he was doing.

Too many screwballs in the world already are phoning their doctors at all hours of the day and night to chat about ridiculous things and now you come along and encourage it!

Why didn't you print your husband's business telephone number and tell the crazy woman to call him?—AMAZED AT YOUR IGNORANCE.

Dear Amazed: I didn't suggest that the woman phone her doctor at home and discuss the problem.

I DID suggest that a husband who locks up his car keys, credit cards, loose change and cuff links every night and pins the key in his pajama pocket, needs professional help. This is what I meant by "have a talk with your doctor and he will take it from there."

Tearful Sights

Dear Ann: As the executive director of a home for unwed mothers I was interested in the letter from "R.D.," the woman who rejoiced that her 13-year-old daughter was going steady.

She was in error beginning with her first sentence. The woman wrote: "I'm a mother."

She is a female baby sitter — and a poor one. A mother should have a measure of maturity. Referring to her 13-year-old daughter, she said, "It's a sad sight to see this child, teary-eyed and fretting, waiting for the telephone to ring."

Ask her, Ann, if she thinks it is pleasant to see a 13-year-old girl sitting teary-eyed and fretting — pregnant in a maternity home. We get some youngsters who are 11 years of age. I have seen them and I know what I'm talking about. These girls often tell us that going steady was the cause.

"R.D." says things are different than when she was a girl. There she is right, Ann. Things ARE different. The unwed pregnancy rate is more than 300 per cent higher. Five years ago we had empty beds. We added a unit recently and still we have room for only one out of four applicants. Many of the girls who come to us tell us Ann Landers sent them.

Please keep hammering away in your column about the dangers of going steady. From where I sit, things don't look good. — D.P. OF FAIRHAVEN HOME, SACRAMENTO, CALIF.

Dear D.P.: Thank you for your letter. Many teen-agers are unhappy with me because of my firm and relentless stand against going steady. I intend to keep hammering away on this subject until my typewriter falls apart.

Sleep Talker

Dear Ann: Most people get into trouble when they are awake. Not me. My problems begin when I fall asleep. I talk all night long —according to my husband.

He tells me I speak lovingly of every fellow I even went with —except him that is. I even get mushy about the office manager whom I thoroughly dislike. Some of the things I'm supposed to have said to the butcher make me blush.

I can't understand this because I'm quite shy and am very much in love with my husband. I wouldn't think of being unfaithful.

Do people really say what is on their minds when they talk in their sleep? How can I stop it? I'm afraid to go to sleep. — TALKER.

Dear Talker: Most sleep talk is fragmentary, jumbled and makes no sense. I suspect your husband is either needling you, pumping you — or both. Forget it and get some rest.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Review, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

MIDLAND'S MOTHER. Chosen as Midland's 'Mother of the Year,' Mrs. Richard DeCostro, 1166 Ohio Ave., receives a bouquet and gift from Charles R. Mrs. DeCostro's name, submitted by her son, Richard DeCostro Jr., student at the Presentation Parochial School, was drawn from a box of entries by George Rudman. All Midland pupils were asked to enter their mother's name for the contest with Paul McGeehan chairman. Her husband works at the Crucible Steel Co. and they have three children, Ronnie, 14; Richard Jr., 13, and Janet 5.

Kennedy To Deliver Commencement Talk

SACRAMENTO, Calif. (AP) — President John F. Kennedy will deliver the commencement address and receive an honorary degree at San Diego State College on June 6.

Gov. Edmund G. Brown said he confirmed the arrangements in a telephone conversation with the President Thursday.

Medical Mirror

ENLARGED HEART

Q. Is an enlarged heart dangerous? Can a person with an enlarged heart continue an active life and drink, smoke and eat whatever he likes?

A. It depends entirely on what is causing the enlarged heart. If it is due to heavy training in athletics or other forms of violent exercise the person involved should be able to get along quite well. If it is of recent origin, a physician should be consulted as to the cause. It should be remembered that alcohol, tobacco and improper eating (especially food high in fat) put an extra load on the heart.

THUMBSUCKING

Q. My eight-year-old daughter is a "thumb sucker." Is this due to a nervous condition? How can I break this habit?

A. You are correct in calling thumbsucking a habit . . . it's seldom anything else. Try stimulating her pride in her fingernails, keep her well manicured and teach her the beauty of hands with well kept nails. If this doesn't work, consult a physician.

Keep In Trim

By IDA JEAN KAIN

Young Mother Jolted Into Reducing

The ring of truth expressed in the letters carries conviction. A jolt from her children prodded one mother into determined action. Here is her inspiring report:

Ida Jean Kain

"Reading about the problems and successes of other dieters has often helped to keep me from getting discouraged. So I want to share too. The following is proof of my road to success. I hope it will boost some other overweight's morale and encourage her to take action.

"My story started about a year ago. I was asked by one of my children how old I was. When I was 34, none of my children believed me. When I asked why not, my 13 year old spoke up and said 'You look older.' Well, that hit home.

"THAT NIGHT, when all the children were asleep, I closed my bedroom door, dusted off the hidden scales, took out the tape measure and faced facts. The pointer on the scales soared to 187 pounds. The tape measure showed these blunt facts: Bust 40, waist 32, hips 42. I felt terrible and angry at myself at what I had allowed to happen.

"The very next day I went to the doctor. Our doctor is really a wonderful friend too, and she tried to help me in every way. She prescribed some pills but only to give me help for the first two weeks. After that she told me in a no-nonsense way that I must do the rest on my own or I would re-gain any weight lost.

"I am a school teacher and so I am away from home for six hours a day. Teaching, along with keeping house is a tough routine. I don't have much time to exercise. But I was determined. I managed to get home a half hour before the children.

"As soon as I open the door, off come the work-a-day clothes and I go to work on exercises. I do about 15 minutes of exercise each afternoon...and I never skip it. On the diet score, I simply cut way down on my portions.

"Now for the results. Weight 143 pounds, bust 36, waist 28, hips 38. I am by no means finished. My goal is 135 pounds. I have a wonderful husband and we are blessed with four fine children. I wanted to do this for them.

"TO MY OWN surprise this has not been an ordeal. On the contrary it has been a stimulating challenge. I know I will be the winner," she concluded triumphantly.

Good for you! There is no foundation of youth that compares with shapely normal weight. And there is no incentive that is greater than love. We all rejoice with you. Thank you, friend, for sharing.

CLEVELAND (AP) — Two natives of Viet Nam will be among 24 young men who will be ordained as Catholic priests in ceremonies in St. John Cathedral Sunday.

They are the Rev. Dominic Nguyen Huu Toan of Bien Hoa, South Viet Nam, and the Rev. Augustine Pham Van Lan of Thai Binh, North Viet Nam.

The Rev. Casimir J. Lechowicz of Lorain will be ordained for service with the Benedictine priests of St. Andrew's Abbey here.

Cancer Fund At 55% Mark In County Drive

Columbiana County's annual Cancer Fund drive has achieved about 55 per cent of its goal of $20,000, it was announced at a meeting of the executive committee Wednesday at Lisbon.

Sam Brown of East Liverpool, county campaign chairman, said reports from the various districts are not complete because the drive has been delayed some due to other fund efforts.

Brown said that a more complete report is expected at a meeting of the directors May 29 at the Courthouse at Lisbon. About eight attended yesterday's meeting.

Ford Motor Idles 2,400 At Cleveland

CLEVELAND (AP)—The Ford Motor Co. has laid off 2,400 of its 2,750 employes at the Walton Hills stamping plant because of what the firm termed an unauthorized work stoppage at its Chicago stamping plant.

The layoffs at Walton Hills were effective at midnight Thursday.

The company also cancelled Saturday overtime production for the 3,000 workers at its assembly plant in Lorain.

"There is a possibility if the strike isn't settled, they will be put on layoff status early next week," a Ford spokesman said.

The 8,819 workers at the Ford engine plants and foundry in Brook Park were not affected immediately, nor was the assembly of Econoline trucks at the Lorain plant.

Ford said the assembly of Econoline trucks at Lorain is the only activity not dependent upon parts from the Chicago facility.

The firm said a "wildcat strike" started Saturday at Chicago when workers refused to report for work on the first shift following disciplinary layoffs imposed earlier on five union officials. The company called for layoffs, which would affect some 40,000 employes in auto assembly plants in 11 states including Ohio.

To End Business In Hurry

Ohio Senate Sets 5-Day Week Sessions In June

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The Senate appears to have made up its mind to wind up its business and go home in a hurry.

Starting the week of June 2, the upper chamber will hold five-days-a-week sessions. In the preceding week, the Senate will meet only three days in advance of the Memorial Day Holiday.

Since most of the major legislation now is in the hands of the Senate, House Speaker Roger Cloud told newsmen he sees no present necessity for five - day sessions in his chamber.

Most guesses are that the Republican-controlled legislature will finish its work in mid-June without having done much aside from doing the bidding of Republican Gov. James A. Rhodes.

His program, in large part, already has passed the House and now is in the Senate's lap.

Even with a stepped-up program the Senate will have difficulty in meeting its mid - June adjournment target date.

In the midst of its adjournment drive, the Senate added to its own woes by resurrecting a resolution long considered dead. It calls or a change in the U. S. Constitution to prevent federal court intervention in state apportionment matters.

Republicans brought the matter to life again just before knocking off the lawmakers' 19th work week Tuesday. The proposal if it ever becomes a part of the Constitution, would bar Congress or the courts from tinkering with such things as Ohio's 60-year-old Hanna Amendment which guarantees every Ohio county, regardless of size, of at least one representative in the legislature. The Hanna Amendment already is under attack in federal court.

Since all but a couple of Ohio's 77 rural counties normally vote Republican, the Hanna Amendment almost guarantees the GOP control of at least the House in the General Assembly. This year Republicans also dominate the Senate.

The measure which probably will be scheduled for an early floor vote in the Senate is part of a nationwide drive to amend the ederal constitution to remove any threat of federal intervention in state affairs.

Democrats have contended long and loudly that Republicans dominate most state legislatures only because of unfair—or unpracticed—apportionment procedures.

You can place serving - size spoons and forks on the table before guests sit down, or you can bring on the serving utensils with the dishes of food after guests are seated.

RETIRING TEACHER HONORED. Miss Cora E. Wickline of East Liverpool, who is retiring after 35 years as a teacher in Midland schools, was honored at a social meeting of the 1st St. School Parent-Teacher Association Thursday afternoon. Miss Wickline, who resides at 102½ E. 5th St., is shown receiving gifts from two of her kindergarten pupils. Cathy Azzerallo and Derek Harris. At rear are Mrs. Brady Richards, retiring president, and Mrs. John Hosey, incoming president. Miss Wickline started teaching in Midland in September 1928, and taught third and first grades before becoming kindergarten teacher. She taught in Wellsville schools for three years before going to Midland. She has a bachelor's degree from Geneva College and a master's degree from the University of Pittsburgh.

Dr. J. K. Rugh Given Post By Health Board

Dr. J. Keith Rugh was elevated to chairman of the Board of Health at a meeting Thursday night at City Hall, succeeding Emil Liebschner, who resigned in April.

James H. Grafton of Edgewood Ave., appointed to the board April 22 by Mayor Bert H. Goodballet to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation, received the oath of office from Howard Claypool, clerk.

Dr. Rugh formerly was vice chairman of the board. Liebschner, who resigned suddenly, had served 14 years on the board—the last four as chairman.

C. Frank Dales was elected vice chairman succeeding Dr. Rugh.

The board discussed a proposal for fluoridation of the city's water supply as an aid to preventing tooth decay, but deferred a decision pending a conference with Water Supt. Donald T. Duke and representatives of the Columbiana County Dental Society.

The proposal for the fluoride program was presented to Council at its meeting May 6 in letters from the Board of Public Utilities, which administers the water department.

The board said it will attempt to arrange to have Duke and Dr. Myer Alpern discuss the proposal at the June 20 meeting.

The board also took under advisement applications from two firms seeking permits to sell milk in the city. They are the Golden Crown Dairy of Warren and the Akron Milk Producers Association. The board said John Owen, sanitary inspector, will make a check on the plants and other facilities of the two applicants and report back to the board.

Miss Selma Ladzinske, public health nurse, reported 192 visits made since the meeting April 18. She also aided in applying and reading 817 tuberculosis patch tests.

Mrs. Luella Bevan, registrar of vital statistics, listed 115 births and 49 deaths in the city between April 18 and Thursday.

Septimus Cook, health commissioner, and John Owen, sanitary inspector, made 371 inspections in the same period.

The 1964 American Bowling Congress tournament will be held in Oakland, Calif., Feb. 22-April 26. Last tournament on the West Coast was in 1954 at Seattle.

Rhodes Renews Pledge To Revitalize Economy

DAYTON, Ohio (AP) — Gov. James A. Rhodes has renewed his pledged to revitalize Ohio's industrial and economic development.

Rhodes and his cabinet members made a three-stop visit here Thursday. They appeared first at a press conference and later met with about 100 Dayton area business and industrial leaders. Thursday night the governor spoke at a testimonial dinner in honor of Montgomery County Republican Chairman Howard Young.

"We have endured too long people in high places trying to drive industry from the state," Rhodes told the conference of business leaders.

"We want you to expand, to provide more jobs, and to create an atmosphere where you can expand and make more money."

The governor said his administration has set as its goal "the finest climate for business growth of any state in the nation."

Rhodes reiterated at the press conference that he will not support any new taxes in any category.

About 20 pickets were on hand Thursday night when Rhodes arrived at the GOP dinner. They staged a mock funeral signifying the death of an expressway project which was excluded from the Highway Department's recently announced five-year construction plans.

Parking Rig Damages Sidewalk In East End

A stone slab sidewalk in front of a Mulberry St. business place was cracked Thursday by the wheels of a tractor-trailer rig which a Beechwood man was attempting to maneuver into a parking place, police reported.

The 1955 model tractor and van driven by William M. Toothman, 130 Beechwood St., damaged the sidewalk about 11:55 a. m. in front of property at 539-541 Mulberry St. owned by Louis Yanni, officers said. The rig is owned by Robert T. Toothman, 186 Center St., officers said.

The driver told police he was pulling in to the curb to park when the rear dual wheels on the right side of the tractor went onto the sidewalk.

Bernie Allen took a day off from the American League baseball wars Thursday and spent the day by the telephone at his parents' home on McCoy Ave.

The Minnesota Twins had flown into Cleveland from New York Wednesday night and Bernie and Coach Floyd Baker of Youngstown took the opportunity to spend the day off at home.

The reason for Bernie's constant vigil by the telephone was that Mrs. Allen was expecting their first baby any day now in Minneapolis and he was waiting for the phone call telling of the blessed event. The baby was due Wednesday, so the father was pretty much on edge.

Bernie returned to Cleveland today, where the Twins open a four-game series tonight.

Gets First Rest In New York . . .

ASKED about his hitting, with his average slightly below the .180 mark, Bernie said, "I started the season hitting good, but the last 10 days every ball I hit was at someone. Wednesday in New York, I had three good shots. One went to the outfield, while another was a hard line drive to first baseman Joe Pepitone, who turned it into a double play."

A New York paper had stated that Allen has fallen into a sophomore slump and that Twins manager Sam Mele was playing him only against righthanded pitchers.

Tuesday night against the Yankees, Mele started John Goryl, a right-handed hitter, at second base against southpaw Whitey Ford. However, the next day Allen was back in the lineup.

We questioned Bernie about Mele using him against righthanders, and Allen replied, "He (Mele) has never said anything to me about that. Actually, I was very happy to take the day off. I was the only regular in the lineup who played every spring training exhibition game and all regular season games.

"Tuesday was the first time I had a chance to rest. I have had a sore back and maybe with Tuesday's rest and the day off today I'll be ready to go against Cleveland."

Allen said that left-handed pitchers haven't bothered him.

Have Lost 10 One-Run Games . . .

LOOKING over the Minnesota club in general, Bernie said, "Bob Allison is the only one on the club who is hitting. The rest of us can't seem to get started."

The Twins, who finished second to the Yankees last year, are in last place in the American League standings, eight games out of first place.

Allen also pointed to the one-run games. The Twins lost nine one-run decisions in spring training and so far in 31 AL games have lost 10 by the same margin.

"Our starting pitchers have done a good job so far, but we lack relief pitching and hitting." he added.

Red Sox Have Improved . . .

WE SKIPPED over to talking about the Boston Red Sox. That prompted Allen to comment, "Dick Stuart, in fact the whole Boston team, looks entirely different this season. Stuart doesn't look anything like he did at Pittsburgh."

Asked about the big reason for the change, Allen said, "I don't know if it's because of Johnny Pesky, the new manager, or because Ted Williams is helping the hitters, but they look like a new team."

Going on what Allen said, Boston could be the big darkhorse in the American League race this season.

(The Saturday afternoon game between the Minnesota Twins and the Indians and the first game of Sunday's doubleheader at Cleveland will be televised over Channel 9).

4 Beavers Pick Schools . . .

Four of Beaver Local's outstanding athletes have pretty well made up their minds on what college they will attend come September.

Dave Myers, who drew much attention his junior year when he was named to the third All-Ohio team, will attend Kent State University, a member of the tough Mid-American Conference. Dave received an athletic scholarship.

Myers, who played offensive guard and linebacker for Coach Jack O'Rourke's forces, has been an all-county choice for the past three years and also gained all-state honorable mention honors last season.

George Gaydos, the hard running fullback, who opponents found very hard to stop, has received a full athletic scholarship from Geneva College, but he hasn't officially accepted yet.

Several other schools still are vieing for George, who in his senior year last season gained an average of over 100 yards a game.

Gary Berhar, strong, glue-fingered end of last year, and John Detchon, who played on the fine 1961 team, have accepted offers to Youngstown University, where they will be under the coaching of Dike Beede.

Tom Graham To Muskingum . . .

★ ★ ★

FROM MANAGER, to a regular tackle, to a college scholarship. This pretty well tells the story of Tom Graham, East Liverpool's massive 220-pound tackle from last season.

As a sophomore, Tom didn't play football but became one of the managers. His junior year, he went out for the team and made it and last year was a regular tackle, and a good one, for the Potters.

Tom has been awarded an athletic scholarship to Muskingum College. Ed Sherman, head grid coach at the New Concord school, saw movie's of Graham's performance in the Steubenville Big Red game and that was all he needed.

Graham played both seasons of football at ELHS

Wilson Hurls Boston To First Place

FROM HERE it looks like Pittsburgh's Bob Clements (21) arrived at first base in time as his left foot hits the bag before the ball is scooped up by the Dodgers Jim Gilliam. However, Clemente was called out on this key play which shows Gilliam taking the ball on the bounce from pitcher John Podres. Pirate manager Danny Murtaugh argued long and loud about the call but to no advantage. The Pirates lost Thursday night's game, 1-0. (UPI Telephoto)

"The best strategy," Manager Johnny Pesky proclaimed, "is to have a 6-foot-4, 210-pounder step up to the plate, hope that he rips one—and he does."

So perhaps the Boston Red Sox manager was indulging in his favorite bit of deft maneuvering Thursday when, with two out, Lou Clinton doubled in two runs and put the Red Sox off and winging into the American League lead.

Red Sox right-hander Earl Wilson, staked to early lead, threw a two-hitter at Los Angeles and beat the Angels 3-0. When Cleveland edged Chicago 5-4 in a night game, the Red Sox took over the top spot .015 points ahead of the White Sox.

Baltimore blasted Washington 9-1 in the only other American League game scheduled.

Baltimore's Brooks Robinson drove in four runs and Jackie Brandt drove in three more as the Orioles blasted Washington and moved into third place, just one game back. Robinson, who has hit safely in 13 consecutive games, had three singles. Chuck Estrada won it, allowing only two hits before his elbow tightened and he left in the sixth.

Max Alvis had a home run leading off the last of the ninth, breaking a 4-4 tie at Cleveland and dropping the White Sox into second place. The homer was the first run scored off relief ace Jim Brosnan in 7 2-3 innings since Chicago obtained him from Cincinnati.

Bucs Find Road Bumpy, Drop 3rd In Row On Coast

By MIKE RATHET
Associated Press Sports Writer

For a guy without a store, Jim Gilliam is really giving everyone the business.

Gilliam, a sure-fingered infielder who loses his job every spring but winds up behind the counter once the rush season starts, scored the game's only run as the Los Angeles Dodgers edged Pittsburgh 1-0 Thursday night and moved into second place in the National League.

A 34-year-old switch-hitter, Gilliam loses his job to the Dodgers' latest phenom almost every spring. This time he stayed in the back room while heralded Nate Oliver took over at second base and the Dodgers experimented with Tommy Davis at third base.

With that lineup, the Dodgers found business a bit slow, so in came Gilliam. In the last nine games, Gilliam has hit at a .457 clip and during that stretch the Dodgers have won seven games while climbing up the standings.

Gilliam got the Dodgers started against the Pirates with his third single and eventually scored on Johnny Roseboro's two-out single in the ninth. Johnny Podres got the victory with a seven-hitter, leaving the Dodgers only three games behind first-place San Francisco.

The Giants got two-run homers from Willie Mays and Willie McCovey and nipped the New York Mets 6-5. The third-place Chicago Cubs beat Cincinnati 2-0, Milwaukee defeated St. Louis 5-2 and Philadelphia downed Houston 5-2.

Mays had a perfect day at the plate, with his sixth homer, two singles and a walk in support of Billy O'Dell, who won his fifth without a loss. O'Dell was tagged for home runs by Cliff Cook, Ron Hunt and Chico Fernandez and needed Gaylord Perry's relief help to subdue the Mets. It was the Giants third straight victory at home, and shoved them over the .500 mark in Candlestick Park with a 9-8 record.

Ernie Banks' run-producing single in the seventh inning gave the Cubs the only run they needed and broke up a pitchers' duel between winner Larry Jackson, who permitted only six hits while bringing his record to 5-4, and Reds' starter Jim O'Toole, 6-3. Billy Williams drove in the other run with a single in the eighth after Lou Brock doubled.

The big blow for the Braves was a three-run homer by Eddie Mathews in the first inning that capped a four-run outburst against Cards' starter Ray Washburn, losing his third after winning his first five. Denny Lemaster got the victory, but lost his bid for a shutout when Stan Musial and Gene Oliver each homered in the ninth.

Don Demeter and Tony Gonzalez each drove in two runs, Tony Taylor collected three hits and batting leader Wes Covington chipped in with a double and a single for a .372 batting average as the Phils continued their mastery over the Colts. The victory was the Phils' 21st in 23 games against Houston since the Colts joined the NL last year. Ray Culp, 4-2, was the winner. Dick Drott took the loss.

Never Bend Expected To Set Pace In Preakness Run

Candy Spots Is Probable 7-5 Favorite Over 1 3-16 Course

By GEORGE BOWEN
Associated Press Sports Writer

BALTIMORE, Md. (AP) — The itching period set in today for the trainers of eight 3-year-olds raring to go Saturday in what promises to be one of the spectaculars in the 90-year history of the Preakness.

"All there is left to do now is walk him, gallop him Saturday morning, and then take him over there in the afternoon and wish him a speedy journey," summed up trainer Woody Stephens.

His work was over Thursday after Never Bend ran a practice ⅝ths of a mile that set the stage for belief that the winner is going to have to do some fancy stepping.

It was a foregone conclusion that Never Bend was a fast starter and probably would be the one that Chateaugay would have to catch again if he was going to duplicate his Kentucky Derby upset.

But either more speed abounds than suspected in the probable field or the track is deceiving.

Never Bend was timed in 58 2-5 seconds, 3-5 faster than the competitive track record. The record time was equaled in other workouts by Jacnot Stables' Country Squire and Mrs. Charles E. Morgan Sky Wonder who are rated long shot entries.

Their speedy trials opened up the possibility that the early stages of the 1 3-16 mile race might not follow the expected pattern with Harry F. Guggenheim seeing his Never Bend out front from the start.

Stephens was ready for a switch in plans. He said he will instruct jockey Manuel Ycaza to let Never Bend break sharply as usual and then to take a look around.

Besides John W. Galbreath's Chateaugay, Never Bend's biggest concern about those behind him, according to the experts, will be Rex Ellsworth's Candy Spots. He was made the probably 7-5 favorite by the Pimlico handicapper who was unconvinced by the third place Derby finish and first setback in seven races for Candy Spots.

Also looking for running room will be Michael and Jack Stein's On My Honor, T. D. Buhl's Lemon Twist, and William B. Robinson's Rural Retreat.

Softball League To Open May 21 With Eight Teams

Eight teams make up the Tri-State Softball League which will open its season Tuesday with a doubleheader at Chester City Park.

The teams include New Cumberland VFW, Chester Merchants, Gallagher's Market, Hancock County Savings and Loan, East End Merchants, Owls Club, Globe Brick and Amvits.

A work party will be held Saturday at the league's field at Chester City Park and a meeting of all team managers is scheduled for Sunday at 4 p.m. at the Park.

A spokesman for the League said there is a good possibility of night softball at the Chester diamond since the field is lighted for football. A concession stand also will be operated at every game.

Over 200 Entries Expected In Local Beagle Club Trial

Some 200 entries are expected this weekend when the East Liverpool Beagle Club holds its second annual licensed trial at the club's grounds near Glenmoor.

Last year 192 entered and Ed Kauffman, club secretary, expects more this year. The trial will open today at 4 p.m. and resume Saturday at 7 a.m.

Judges for the event include William Bushmire Jr. of McDonald, Pa., Walter Woods of Salem, Ivan Rhoades of St. Michael, Pa. and Henry Clay of Niles.

A Beagle dog can only become a field trial champion by winning at licensed trials. He must have three first places and 110 points.

Food will be served by the Ladies Auxiliary with Mrs. Frank Reed, president in charge.

Gal Bowlers At Memphis . . .

THREE TEAMS of local women bowlers have arrived in Memphis, Tenn. and will bowl in the National Women's Tournament over the weekend.

Rolling for Rapport's will be Sue Fullerton, Helen Steffan, June McVay, Sara Hague and Phil Stewart.

The roster of the Friendly Bowling Center lists Joan Cartwright, Mabel Abdalla, Mary Lou Springer, Rose Comparetta, JoAnn Soldano and Betty Roush.

Local teams are scheduled to bowl Saturday and Sunday. Some of the bowlers plan to attend the weekend Cotton Festival in Memphis.

EL Students Offered Grid Ducets At $2

The slogan of the student season football ticket sale in East Liverpool which got underway today is "pay a dollar, save a dollar."

The ELHS Athletic department is offering student season tickets, ordered before the close of this school year, at only $2 for six home games. This is a saving of a $1 since the regular student tickets are 50 cents per game.

Students wishing to purchase season tickets pay $1 now and $1 in September when they pick up the tickets.

All students in the East Liverpool school system and St. Aloysius are eligible to purchase the season tickets.

The tickets are being sold by principals at each elementary building, the student councils at East Junior High and Westgate and by the Varsity Club, Key Club and Boosters Club at the high school.

Little Known Golf Pro Has Tourney Lead

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP) — Bob Stone, whose golf tournament play usually is restricted to events close to his Junction City, Kan., home, turned back the challenge of both gusty winds and regular PGA tourists to grab the first round lead Thursday in the $35,000 Oklahoma City Open with a 4-under-par 68.

Stone's 68 over the 7,050-yard par 36-36—72 Quail Creek Course was a stroke better than defending champion Doug Sanders, George Bayer, Ken Still and host pro Ernie Vossler.

A field of 157 started play, but Art Wall Jr. withdrew after posting a 38-41—79. Wall complained of not feeling well.

Beaver Local Nine Comes From Behind To Win Title

The Beaver Local nine fashioned one of its patented finishes by coming from behind to edge Toronto, 5-4 in the playoff game which decided the Buckeye Border Conference championship Thursday on the Beavers' home field.

Coach Flody Suarez's squad spotted the Red Knights a 3-0 lead in the first two innings then gave up another run in the sixth.

The Beavers tied the score at 4-4 on Wayne Smith's solo home run in the second inning, another marker in the fifth and two more in the sixth and then won the game after two were out in the last of the seventh.

Ron Merritt, who came on to win the game in relief in the seventh, also was one of the batting stars as he produced the two runs in the sixth inning on a key single.

After holding Toronto scoreless in the top of the seventh, the Beavers went to bat in the final frame and the first two batters grounded out as the Red Knights' ace Tom Coulter went to the mound.

Sophomore Dennis Horger, the starting hurler, stepped up with two outs and blasted a Coulter pitch for a double to centerfield.

Coulter then walked Gary Berhard intentionally and the Beavers loaded the bases when Dave Myers hard rap to shortstop was too hot to handle.

Smith, the batting hero with a three-for-three day, drove in the winning run when a screaming ground ball bounced off the second baseman's chest which went bouncing into the outfield. The shot was ruled a base hit.

Wright, Faulk Lead Women In Muskogee Open

MUSKOGEE, Okla. (AP) — A couple of long-hitting money winners led the way into today's second round of the $8,000 Muskogee Women's Open Golf Tournament.

Both Mickey Wright, last year's leading money winner, and Mary Lena Faulk, third in earnings in 1962, carded par 70s in Thursday's first round, but they did it in different ways.

Miss Faulk, in her eighth season as a pro, went one under par on the second hole and stayed there until the 13th when a bogey put her even. Miss Wright finished the front nine one over par, then racked up three birdies on the back nine.

Jockeys Bill Harmatz and Bennie Sorensen are former tumblers.

Potters Drop 3-1 Decision To Big Red

Steubenville Big Red came up with two runs in the fourth inning to break a 1-1 tie and hand East Liverpool a 3-1 setback Thursday at Steubenville.

Big Red drew first blood with a run in the second inning on three hits and one error.

Coach Jack Bair's Potters who now show a 2-5 record tied the game in the fourth inning when Roger Linville led off with a single was moved around on Joe Massey's base hit and came home on a safety by first baseman Dick Heddleston who was the Potters leading batsman again with two hits in three trips.

Big Red collected a double and two singles to score a pair of runs in the fifth inning.

Bill Miller, a junior went all the way for the Potters giving up eight hits. ELHS collected five safeties off of Steubenville's Baker.

Never Bend Expected To Set Pace In Preakness Run

Candy Spots Is Probable 7-5 Favorite Over 1 3-16 Course

By GEORGE BOWEN
Associated Press Sports Writer

BALTIMORE, Md. (AP) — The itching period set in today for the trainers of eight 3-year-olds raring to go Saturday in what promises to be one of the spectaculars in the 90-year history of the Preakness.

"All there is left to do now is walk him, gallop him Saturday morning, and then take him over there in the afternoon and wish him a speedy journey," summed up trainer Woody Stephens.

His work was over Thursday after Never Bend ran a practice ⅝ths of a mile that set the stage for belief that the winner is going to have to do some fancy stepping.

It was a foregone conclusion that Never Bend was a fast starter and probably would be the one that Chateaugay would have to catch again if he was going to duplicate his Kentucky Derby upset.

But either more speed abounds than suspected in the probable field or the track is deceiving.

Never Bend was timed in 58 2-5 seconds, 3-5 faster than the competitive track record. The record time was equaled in other workouts by Jacnot Stables' Country Squire and Mrs. Charles E. Morgan Sky Wonder who are rated long shot entries.

Their speedy trials opened up the possibility that the early stages of the 1 3-16 mile race might not follow the expected pattern with Harry F. Guggenheim seeing his Never Bend out front from the start.

Stephens was ready for a switch in plans. He said he will instruct jockey Manuel Ycaza to let Never Bend break sharply as usual and then to take a look around.

Besides John W. Galbreath's Chateaugay, Never Bend's biggest concern about those behind him, according to the experts, will be Rex Ellsworth's Candy Spots. He was made the probably 7-5 favorite by the Pimlico handicapper who was unconvinced by the third place Derby finish and first setback in seven races for Candy Spots.

Also looking for running room will be Michael and Jack Stein's On My Honor, T. D. Buhl's Lemon Twist, and William B. Robinson's Rural Retreat.

Softball League To Open May 21 With Eight Teams

Eight teams make up the Tri-State Softball League which will open its season Tuesday with a doubleheader at Chester City Park.

The teams include New Cumberland VFW, Chester Merchants, Gallagher's Market, Hancock County Savings and Loan, East End Merchants, Owls Club, Globe Brick and Amvits.

A work party will be held Saturday at the league's field at Chester City Park and a meeting of all team managers is scheduled for Sunday at 4 p.m. at the Park.

A spokesman for the League said there is a good possibility of night softball at the Chester diamond since the field is lighted for football. A concession stand also will be operated at every game.

Over 200 Entries Expected In Local Beagle Club Trial

Some 200 entries are expected this weekend when the East Liverpool Beagle Club holds its second annual licensed trial at the club's grounds near Glenmoor.

Last year 192 entered and Ed Kauffman, club secretary, expects more this year. The trial will open today at 4 p.m. and resume Saturday at 7 a.m.

Judges for the event include William Bushmire Jr. of McDonald, Pa., Walter Woods of Salem, Ivan Rhoades of St. Michael, Pa. and Henry Clay of Niles.

A Beagle dog can only become a field trial champion by winning at licensed trials. He must have three first places and 110 points.

Food will be served by the Ladies Auxiliary with Mrs. Frank Reed, president in charge.

THREE TEAMS of local women bowlers have arrived in Memphis, Tenn. and will bowl in the National Women's Tournament over the weekend.

Rolling for Rapport's will be Sue Fullerton, Helen Steffan, June McVay, Sara Hague and Phil Stewart.

The roster of the Friendly Bowling Center lists Joan Cartwright, Mabel Abdalla, Mary Lou Springer, Rose Comparetta, JoAnn Soldano and Betty Roush.

Local teams are scheduled to bowl Saturday and Sunday. Some of the bowlers plan to attend the weekend Cotton Festival in Memphis.

EL Students Offered Grid Ducets At $2

The slogan of the student season football ticket sale in East Liverpool which got underway today is "pay a dollar, save a dollar."

The ELHS Athletic department is offering student season tickets, ordered before the close of this school year, at only $2 for six home games. This is a saving of a $1 since the regular student tickets are 50 cents per game.

Students wishing to purchase season tickets pay $1 now and $1 in September when they pick up the tickets.

All students in the East Liverpool school system and St. Aloysius are eligible to purchase the season tickets.

The tickets are being sold by principals at each elementary building, the student councils at East Junior High and Westgate and by the Varsity Club, Key Club and Boosters Club at the high school.

Little Known Golf Pro Has Tourney Lead

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP) — Bob Stone, whose golf tournament play usually is restricted to events close to his Junction City, Kan., home, turned back the challenge of both gusty winds and regular PGA tourists to grab the first round lead Thursday in the $35,000 Oklahoma City Open with a 4-under-par 68.

Stone's 68 over the 7,050-yard par 36-36—72 Quail Creek Course was a stroke better than defending champion Doug Sanders, George Bayer, Ken Still and host pro Ernie Vossler.

A field of 157 started play, but Art Wall Jr. withdrew after posting a 38-41—79. Wall complained of not feeling well.

Beaver Local Nine Comes From Behind To Win Title

The Beaver Local nine fashioned one of its patented finishes by coming from behind to edge Toronto, 5-4 in the playoff game which decided the Buckeye Border Conference championship Thursday on the Beavers' home field.

Coach Flody Suarez's squad spotted the Red Knights a 3-0 lead in the first two innings then gave up another run in the sixth.

The Beavers tied the score at 4-4 on Wayne Smith's solo home run in the second inning, another marker in the fifth and two more in the sixth and then won the game after two were out in the last of the seventh.

Ron Merritt, who came on to win the game in relief in the seventh, also was one of the batting stars as he produced the two runs in the sixth inning on a key single.

After holding Toronto scoreless in the top of the seventh, the Beavers went to bat in the final frame and the first two batters grounded out as the Red Knights' ace Tom Coulter went to the mound.

Coulter then walked Gary Berhard intentionally and the Beavers loaded the bases when Dave Myers hard rap to shortstop was too hot to handle.

Smith, the batting hero with a three-for-three day, drove in the winning run when a screaming ground ball bounced off the second baseman's chest which went bouncing into the outfield. The shot was ruled a base hit.

Potters Drop 3-1 Decision To Big Red

Steubenville Big Red came up with two runs in the fourth inning to break a 1-1 tie and hand East Liverpool a 3-1 setback Thursday at Steubenville.

Big Red drew first blood with a run in the second inning on three hits and one error.

Coach Jack Bair's Potters who now show a 2-5 record tied the game in the fourth inning when Roger Linville led off with a single was moved around on Joe Massey's base hit and came home on a safety by first baseman Dick Heddleston who was the Potters leading batsman again with two hits in three trips.

Big Red collected a double and two singles to score a pair of runs in the fifth inning.

Bill Miller, a junior went all the way for the Potters giving up eight hits. ELHS collected five safeties off of Steubenville's Baker.

$300,000 Fire Hits Hollywood Landmark

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Ice skaters around the world knew the old Polar Palace. It was a Hollywood landmark.

Workmen finished remodeling it recently. The Pacific skating championships were to have been held there at the end of the year.

But early Thursday, a fire broke out in its coffee shop. It blazed through the structure, threatening a movie sound stage next door.

Sixteen fire companies battled the flames. They didn't have much luck. The building was gutted. Firemen estimated the loss at $300,000.

$300,000 Fire Hits Hollywood Landmark

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Ice skaters around the world knew the old Polar Palace. It was a Hollywood landmark.

Workmen finished remodeling it recently. The Pacific skating championships were to have been held there at the end of the year.

But early Thursday, a fire broke out in its coffee shop. It blazed through the structure, threatening a movie sound stage next door.

Sixteen fire companies battled the flames. They didn't have much luck. The building was gutted. Firemen estimated the loss at $300,000.

State-wide service program for used car buyers

of Guaranteed Warranty

15% discount on all parts AND 15% discount on all labor for one full year on any Guaranteed Warranty used car

We have joined with hundreds of other members of the OHIO Automobile Dealers Association to provide the used car buyer with a state-wide discount program on parts and labor. To receive and use this discount privilege, buy your next used car from us. We belong to the Guaranteed Warranty Program.

1. Buy a warranted used car from any one of the dealers listed in this announcement. With your car, you will receive a Guaranteed Warranty certificate and a listing of all dealers throughout OHIO who are members of the program. Automatically, you have a 15% repair discount privilege on that car in the garage of any member dealer in any part of OHIO for one full year after purchase.

2. If your car needs any repairs at all during the year, except as a result of accident, take it to the dealer from whom it was purchased or, when traveling, to any GW Dealer shown in your OHIO listing or to any GW Dealer in the United States or Canada. Have your car repaired, then show the dealer your Guaranteed Warranty Certificate. He will then discount 15% from your total bill for all replacement parts and labor.

The Guaranteed Warranty discount program is the first and only state-wide used car warranty plan approved by the OHIO AUTOMOBILE DEALERS ASSOCIATION.

OFF THE RECORD

"I told you he would return the book when he finished reading it."

How Can I?

By ANNE ASHLEY

Q. How can I remove paint stains from clothing?

A. Turpentine, mineral spirits, kerosene, and ordinary cleaning fluid are all good solvents for these stains. None of these, however, is reliable if you have allowed the stains to become stale. For stale paint stains, try combining equal parts of turpentine or mineral spirits and acetone (fingernail polish remover), so long as the fabric involved is not acetate rayon, and use it as you would cleaning fluid.

Q. What is an easy way to brighten some of my carpets?

A. Carpets can be brightened considerably, and the oils in the wool preserved, if occasionally they are sponged lightly with a solution of ½-cup of vinegar to one quart of warm water.

Q. What can I do about the circle or ring that is often left when grease has been removed from material with dry-cleaning fluid?

A. This circle or ring will vanish if the cloth is held over the spout of a steaming teakettle.

Q. How can I best polish tortoise shell?

A. By rubbing in rouge powder with a bit of soft cloth. Rub afterwards with the hands.

Q. Do you have anything to say about teen-age skin and its blemishes?

A. Teen-agers with skin problems are smarter if they consult a doctor. Most teen-agers will find that increased and more thorough soap and water cleansings, followed by a medicated soap of some kind, will control most of their problems. It is important to avoid irritating the skin and creating serious infections.

Junior Editors Quiz on THE WEST INDIES

QUESTION: What islands or countries make up the West Indies?

ANSWER: You will recall that Columbus first landed on the West Indian island of San Salvador. He named these countries "Indies" because he thought they were part of the East Indies of Asia. Spanish galleons began to bring gold back to the mother country; buccaneers preyed upon these treasure ships and the West Indies became headquarters for pirates (lower right). When piracy was wiped out, a peaceful era began.

To understand the West Indian countries today look at the map. The Bahamas at the top are English; Cuba, below, is independent. Jamaica was granted independence from England in 1962. On one large island, Haiti and the Dominican Republic are both independent nations. Puerto Rico is a commonwealth of the United States. To the right are the Virgin Islands. One group of these belongs to the U. S., the rest to England. Of the small islands to the right, the Netherlands control two groups; the French, the islands of Guadeloupe and Martinique. Other islands such as (B) Barbados, are British, and Trinidad and Tobago (T) were granted independence during 1962.

★ ★ ★

FOR YOU TO DO: Make an enlarged drawing of the Spanish galleon on the map and color in crayon, using brown and yellow for the hull and light bold for the sails. The sea can be deep blue, but the waves in front of the bow should be pure white.

Carson Proves Paar Isn't Indispensible

Nearly eight months have passed since Johnny Carson took over the "Tonight" show from the abdicating Jack Paar. Not once in that time has Carson cried about the cruel grind, nor has he yet threatened to quit.

Hal Humphrey

Until last week, he had not stuck any needles into anyone, but a crack of Paar's in the Saturday Evening Post did it for Carson. "I felt it necessary to answer Paar, because it was a real put-downer, and not even true," says Carson, who is in Hollywood doing two weeks of shows.

-:-

PAAR SAID to his Post interviewer that Carson had embarrassed him early in the season by hanging around Paar's studio and pestering him with questions such as "Well, what do you think, Jack? How's it going?"

Patronizingly, Paar's reply to Carson was, "Johnny, I hear it's great."

According to Paar, he had fallen asleep too early to see Carson.

"Frankly," he added to the Post writer, "it isn't my cup of tea."

Carson's squelcher, on the air last week, was that "I went over to Paar's studio just once, and that was to congratulate him. I saw him two other times, but it was in the men's room. Maybe that's what embarrassed him."

CARSON CAN AFFORD to be magnanimous about brother Paar. Under Carson's tutelage, the "Tonight" show has blossomed into the largest number of stations (211) to carry it. The sponsor time is all sold out, and the rating is higher than ever.

The network brass hasn't even mustered the temerity to censor any of Carson's gags or guests yet.

"I invited them down for a run-through of the show we did with the bell dancer," Carson recalls. "I didn't want them to make a big thing of it later but nothing was said.

Is Carson disturbed by those "It's silly. That wasn't Paar's format. Everybody has done it, including the Romans. How many ways can you do that type of show? Either you stand up, sit down or lie down. I did it years ago with a show called 'Carson's Cellar.'"

ONE THING Carson hasn't done is build up his own stock company of characters such as Paar's critics who accuse him of copying Paar's format?

Charlie Weaver, Genevieve and others.

"That sort of thing takes time, and I'm not sure I want it anyway. I used to get pretty sick of Charlie and Genevieve every night."

There's been no shortage of guests for Carson. He seems to have built as solid a reputation for presenting guests as Paar had. At a party in New York recently, he saw Marlon Brando. After meeting him, Carson casually asked if Brando would come on the show.

"Sure, why not?" said Brando.

"When I got out here, I heard Brando was in the hospital, and I got a little worried whether he's make it on the show, but then I lined up Zsa Zsa Gabor, and I knew I was safe. She could talk until Brando got out of the hospital," says Carson.

RIGHT THERE is one of the differences between Carson and Paar. The latter would have flown into a rage if a guest suddenly became unavailable. Carson has a happy faculty of not pressing when he gets into trouble—on or off the show.

Also, because Carson isn't constantly living from crisis to crisis he isn't in the position of feeling he has to top himself each week ("I'm there primarily to entertain, not promote controversy").

This could be another reason why Paar finds Carson embarrassing. He suddenly finds he is not the indispensable man after all.

If you bought electricity at a store...

. . . you'd be amazed at today's bargain price compared to what you paid for electricity 10 or 20 years ago.

Since 1946, the cost of virtually everything you buy has gone up over 57 per cent. In contrast, the average cost of a kilowatthour of electricity for Ohio Power customers has gone down 34 per cent!

We are shoppers, too. And the cost of everything we need—the wages we pay, the materials we buy—has gone up for us just as it has for you.

How then have we managed to keep your cost of electricity down? Many things contribute to this condition—continued research, technological improvements, use of the most modern equipment, increased operating efficiencies and planned expansion—all helping to make possible the low cost of electric power.

If you bought electricity at a store...

...you'd be amazed at today's bargain price compared to what you paid for electricity 10 or 20 years ago.

Since 1946, the cost of virtually everything you buy has gone up over 57 per cent. In contrast, the average cost of a kilowatthour of electricity for Ohio Power customers has gone down 34 per cent!

We are shoppers, too. And the cost of everything we need—the wages we pay, the materials we buy—has gone up for us just as it has for you.

How then have we managed to keep your cost of electricity down? Many things contribute to this condition—continued research, technological improvements, use of the most modern equipment, increased operating efficiencies and planned expansion—all helping to make possible the low cost of electric power.
